NOTES

Yesterday's collection. That collection you've lost interest in when you turned to a new collecting area is probably lying in the safe deposit vault while it quietly appreciates in value. That's comforting. Yet more comforting—and more pleasurable—would be to cash in the appreciated value of your old material for new material for your new collecting interest. And let that appreciate in value while you're actively enjoying it.

I'll help. Describe your "yesterday's collection" and let me quote you a more-than-fair figure for outright purchase. Or if your collection qualifies, I'll make an immediate cash advance if consigned to my auctions. Call me toll-free:
