

Deciding to sell your collection?

There are many reasons why people sell their collections. But when the time comes to sell, they all want one thing: top price.

The Matthew Bennett Company pays top price. Period! Here's how we do it.

Your collection is given a complete and objective evaluation at your convenience. This can be easily arranged with a toll-free phone call. Bennett representatives travel extensively. You can request an in-house evaluation or you can ship your collection at our expense.

In our evaluation, every feature that contributes value is fully discussed with you. Then, independently prepared market data is used to determine price. This data is current and unbiased. It is an open book to you. You can actually see for yourself what others are getting for their stamps in today's market.

Then you get an offer: top price. Immediately upon your acceptance, we write you a check.

Call the experienced people at Matthew Bennett toll-free.

Consider the top offer and decide for yourself.

President's Welcoming Message

May 31, 1991

Dear Visitors:

NAPEX this year again is held in the beautiful Sheraton National Hotel situated at the confluence of Washington Boulevard and Columbia Pike in Arlington, Virginia. Arlington is part of Metropolitan Washington and until 1846 was part of the District of Columbia.

A special welcome is extended to the officers and members of the United Postal Stationery Society which this year is holding its convention in the Nation's Capital. NAPEX 91 also cordially welcomes the many societies holding meetings or having special programs and seminars.

NAPEX this year is honoring the 200th anniversary of the Bill of Rights, the first ten amendments to our Constitution, and this theme will be used in our cachets, program and limited edition of souvenir card No. 5, as well as being incorporated into the design of the official Arlington station 22210 postal cancel used at the show. This theme will also be used in the keepsake presented to and available only to those attending the Awards Banquet to be held in the Sheraton National Hotel Saturday, June 1, 1991.

In addition, all visitors are invited to attend the large NAPEX auction on Sunday, June 2, handled this year by the Matthew Bennett auction firm of Baltimore, Maryland, the most important auction firm in this area.

Springtime in Washington is a really beautiful time of the year and the members of the NAPEX organization hope all our visitors will take time to see the many sights of our Nation's Capital.

Philatelically yours,

Milton Mitchell

Awards

The NAPEX annual stamp exhibition has been designated a National show; therefore the Grand Award winner is invited to participate in the Champion of Champions yearly competition held by the American Philatelic Society (APS).

In order to qualify for the Champion of Champions competition, a local exhibition must have at least 2,000 pages of material in competition to be judged by APS accredited judges. A critique must be held by the judges after the awards have been made to which all exhibitors (and others) are invited to attend. These critiques are intended to be helpful and informative; questions will be answered.

NAPEX Grand Award

NAPEX Reserve Grand Award

NAPEX Medals—Five levels:

Gold, vermeil, silver, silver-bronze and bronze are awarded on an Open Show basis without regard to classification or the various society awards.

The winners of the Grand Award and Reserve Grand Award not only receive engraved gold medals but also appropriate keepsakes.
